The President's Message

Dear Fellow Members:

In complying with the request for a "Message From the President" usual at this time of year, I wish first of all to thank you for the honor conferred in electing me to this office, and next to draw to your attention the importance of the various tasks which face us.

In addition to our work as teachers in our individual schools, certain Federation activities stand out—tasks which are the concern of all, and, as such, should be carried on in such a way that the results achieved are the product of the contributions of all .

This contribution of services by willing workers has been one of the happy features of Executive work in the past, and may I ask not only for the continued help of those who have so ably assisted heretofore but that every member consider it his privilege—nay duty—to contribute the best he has for the benefit of all.

As Federation members, our activities would appear to fall into two classes: Those which occur from year to year and which we tend to regard as matters of routine, and those which arise in the course of the year and require careful consideration and new adjustments.

In regard to the first group, among which I would list such items as our Conventions and Education Week, I would say that we should not regard them as matters of course but as real live institutions, from which we obtain a maximum of value by earnest thought and careful planning. NOW is the time to commence our plans for these events.

With reference to the new or unfinished business of our Federation may I solicit your earnest attention to the following:

1. Continued study and research in regard to curriculum revision.
2. The reorganization of our magazine along the lines suggested by the 1935 convention.

3. Consideration of Professional Membership and completion of the Bill for presentation at the next session of the Legislature.
4. Consideration of School Financing and reorganization in the light of the report recently submitted.
5. The formation and consolidation of the new Secondary and Elementary sections of the Federation.
6. Ways and means by which the Federation may be of greater use to its individual members—especially those in isolated districts.

These are a few of the topics which will occupy the time and attention of your Executive during the coming year. Now, in conclusion, may I again assure you that your advice and constructive criticism will be, at all times, greatly appreciated.

Wishing you every success for the coming year,

Yours very sincerely,

R. P. STEEVES.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIP

FOLLOWING our usual procedure we at this time wish to acquaint all teachers with the progress made in drafting the Professional Membership Bill.

Our first step last February, as you are all aware, was to take a referendum on the question, which resulted as follows:

In favor - - -	3014
Against - - -	105
Spoiled ballots -	16

The spoiled ballots included all those who voted conditionally on the question.

Following this referendum a committee was set up to draft recommendations for submission to the Easter Convention. The annual meeting of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation received the recommendations submitted and instructed the committee to proceed with the drafting of the final Bill and to submit it to the various teacher associations for final approval.

The committee, since Easter, has confined its activities to the collecting of data from all sources and to detailed examination of similar Bills in other provinces. It will commence work on the final draft on the 19th of this month. The Bill will be submitted to the Executive of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation for consideration and then to all teacher associations for final approval before presentation to the Legislature.

We may mention also that no literature on this matter has been circulated to the teachers of the province by the Federation or the Draft Bill Committee since last Easter. All announcements on this subject will be made through our official organ, "The B. C. Teacher," to prevent any misunderstanding or doubt on the part of our teachers.

SUMMER SESSION SCHOLARSHIPS

EACH year the Summer Session Students' Association of the University of British Columbia gives a scholarship of $30 to the second year student having the highest standing. We are pleased to announce that the award for 1935 has been made to Mr. Alec. Robinson of the staff of the Dawson School, Vancouver. Congratulations, Mr. Robinson!

In Memoriam

WILLIAM LAWSON RAND, B.A., graduate of Acadia University, was principal of the Mount Pleasant School when death overtook him on July 16. Mr. Rand was born in King's County, Nova Scotia, and after graduating from Acadia in 1907, he taught one year in Pattison School, Hartonville, Nova Scotia. At the end of 1908 he came west, taking up his profession at Ymir, B.C., where he taught for three years. He then came to Vancouver, joining the real estate firm of the late C. D. Rand. In 1914 he joined the teaching staff of the Vancouver School Board commencing at the Lord Roberts School, and after teaching there for a year was made vice-principal. He was promoted to vice-principal of Mount Pleasant School in 1916, to principal of Bayview School in 1918, vice-principal of Grandview School in 1919, vice-principal of Henry Hudson School in 1922, vice-principal of Cecil Rhodes School in 1923, vice-principal at Fairview School in 1923, acting principal of Fairview School in 1933, and principal of Mount Pleasant School in 1934-35.

In the home, as a neighbor, in the public service he was an excellent citizen. His unassuming helpfulness, justness, and kind interest in the welfare of others, will live on in the hearts of the many teachers who were under him. His keen interest in his pupils, and untiring efforts for their advancement in all phases of their work was a big factor in making many of their lives successful. He will be a distinct loss to the teaching profession.

MISS ANNIE C. RUSSELL

IN these days of "shifting values" and blurred moral perspectives one turns with relief to those whose feet are placed on the rock of sterling principle. Such a one was Miss Annie Cleland Russell, a member of the Vancouver teaching staff, who passed away in April after a long period of illness.

Miss Russell taught in the following schools: Queen Mary, Prince of Wales, Edith Cavell, and Begbie, serving also as an exchange teacher in England.

Her early education was received in the Victoria High School, but her keen intellect and literary tastes demanded a wide supplement in artistic and cultural fields. She was a versatile linguist and had travelled extensively.

Of Scottish parentage she inherited all the virile qualities that one associates with the best of that nation, and she strove to inculcate those ideals, innate in her own personality, in her pupils, exacting the same uncompromising rectitude and high quality of standards.

The younger generation and the teaching profession are the poorer for the loss of this teacher of so fine a calibre.

MISS FLORENCE M. WHITE

BY the death of Miss Florence M. White the teaching profession of British Columbia has lost one who was loyal, energetic and progressive. She was well known for her executive ability, and admired for her constructive work as Staff Representative to and Executive member of the Vancouver Elementary Teachers' Association.

Miss White received her early education in Rossland and taught for two years in the Fraser Valley before being appointed to Brock School, where she had recently completed her twenty-fifth year of faithful service.

As a pioneer Exchange teacher she taught in London during the hectic year of 1914-15. Since that time she took an active interest in Exchange work, having been President of the Local Exchange Teachers' Branch of the League of Empire for several years.

She was a staunch friend, true to her profession, and one who "spoke no evil and heard no evil".

MR. FREDERICK M. COWPERTHWAITE

MEMBERS of the teaching profession in British Columbia were very sorry to learn of the passing of Mr. Frederick M. Cowperthwaite, who died on Thursday, September 5, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Lipsett, 7038 Cypress Street, Vancouver.

Mr. Cowperthwaite was a prominent retired Vancouver school principal and citizen. He was born in Fredericton and came to Vancouver in 1890. Shortly after his arrival he was appointed assistant principal at the Central School. The following year he became principal of the school and served in that capacity until 1897, following which he served for two years as a provincial inspector of schools. From 1899 to 1902 he was inspector of city schools. In 1902 he accepted the principalship of Dawson School and remained in that position for ten years. In 1912 he received the appointment of principal of Lord Tennyson School, where he continued until 1914 when he took over the principalship of Bayview School. He remained in that school until the end of 1917 when he retired from teaching.

In the death of Mr. Cowperthwaite the city of Vancouver, the province, and the teaching profession have lost a highly respected educationist, who gave a life-time of outstanding service.

To his relatives and friends "The B. C. Teacher" extends its sincere sympathy.

WILLIAM ROSSWELL SMITH, M.A., B.Paed.

ON August 6 word reached Vancouver of the passing of Ross Smith, principal of the Prince of Wales High School, at Preston, Ontario. Mr. Smith, who had been attending Ontario College of Education, was stricken with appendicitis and died four days later.

W. R. Smith was born in Hespeler, Ontario, in 1891. From public school at Hespeler and collegiate at Galt he went to the University of Toronto. After four busy years engaged in student activities as well as study he graduated in 1913 with first class honors in English and History with the Modern Language Option.

That fall, at Western College, Calgary, Mr. Smith began his career as a high school teacher. A year later he became principal of Penticton High School, and from that time forward devoted his thought and energy to matters concerned with education. In 1915 he joined the staff of the South Vancouver High School, leaving in 1916 for service overseas, where he was a lieutenant in the Royal Artillery and where he was several times mentioned in despatches. In September, 1919, he returned to South Vancouver, but resigned two years later to take charge of the Department of English and History at the Prince of Wales High School. The next thirteen years of his life were spent in the interests of that school, of which he was made vice-principal in 1926 and principal in 1934. His going touched very deeply the students who had respected and liked him ,the colleagues who had enjoyed his fellowship, and the people of the district, who had depended on his advice and direction in matters concerning their sons and daughters.

Mr. Smith's work was not confined to the school in which he taught. Always a student, he continued work at the University of British Columbia where he received the degree of Master of Arts. Later at Toronto he secured the degree of Bachelor of Paedagogy, and was completing work for his Doctorate when death called. He did not count being a teacher and a student enough, but gave his wholehearted support to the work of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, and of the local association, holding many offices. He acted first as secretary and, later, as president of the Lower Mainland High School Teachers' Association, and during the past trying years has been a member of the Vancouver Teachers' Council. His courtesy, tact, sound judgment and strength of character will be greatly missed by his associates in the various organizations he served.

Our record, all too brief, of a life spent in service, reviews only one side of Mr. Smith. It is not possible to tell of his devotion to his family and friends and of his place in the community except to say he was steadfast and in his 43 years he accomplished much good.

To those to whom he was most dear, to wife and son, mother and sisters and brothers, and intimate friends we extend our sincere sympathy. The loss is great; we all share it.

MISS HELEN M. GRAHAM

OUR Federation has suffered another loss by the death of Miss Helen Margaret Graham, a valued member of the Vancouver teaching staff, who passed away in the General Hospital on September 9, 1935.

Coming from Manitoba at an early age, Miss Graham completed her education in Vancouver and was appointed to the city teaching staff in 1921. Until 1927 she taught in Grandview School, and then was transferred to the Franklin School, where, with the exception of one year when on exchange in England, she taught until the end of June of this year.

Miss Graham was keenly interested in the choral activities of her school, and on several occasions her classes won honors at musical festivals. Her death will be felt greatly by both members of the staff and pupils, and her place will not easily be filled.

To her mother and sister, both of Vancouver, "The B. C. Teacher" extends its deepest sympathy in their irreparable loss.

The Group Mind and School Discipline

(By CHAS. C. WATSON, Point Grey Junior High School, Vancouver)

ON every hand today, throughout our school systems, there is evidence that Education is becoming scientific. Much is heard of scientific tests, scientific measurements, and scientific curriculum building. Maria Montessori has said that "Education is now passing from the Philosophical into the Scientific stage, as Medicine did fifteen hundred years ago". Scientific thinking, as such, is not new, but it has only recently been applied to Education because only in comparatively recent years has the study of the human mind developed into a science, namely, Psychology. It is this scientific study of the mind which places the present-day educator in possession of truths upon which to build a twentieth century educational system to meet twentieth century needs. One ever-present problem in any school system or in any community is the problem of discipline. It has existed throughout the ages, and in the past the successful TEACHER was the successful DISCIPLINARIAN. The old-time school-master knew only the remedy of suffering, 'the discipline of the strap'. This was indeed 'corrective' discipline. It is acknowledged, though, that 'prevention is better than cure', and it would therefore probably follow that wherever possible, 'preventive' discipline is a great advance over former methods. One of the chief means of carrying into effect a system of preventive discipline is through the application of the principles of 'Group Psychology'.

According to Wm. McDougall, "The social aggregate has a collective mental life, which is not merely the sum of the mental lives of its units,—it has a collective mind". There is a GROUP MIND which exists only in the minds of the members of the group, yet "it exists in and along with the separate minds of the members, and over and above any sum of those minds created by mere addition". Most writers have shown how participation in group life degrades the individual, how the group feels and thinks and acts on a much lower plane than the average plane of the individuals who compose it. "In spite of the fact that participation in group life degrades the individual, assimilating his mental processes to those of the crowd . . ., yet only by participation in group life does man fully become man . . . . Organization of the group conteracts the degrading influences and renders the group life the great ennobling influence by aid of which man rises a little above the animals and may even aspire to fellowship with the angels".

It is therefore the purpose of this series of articles to show how, with judicious care on the part of administrators, Group Psychology may be used to at least reduce the problem of school discipline; to illustrate how the factors which aid in producing that 'ennobling

GRADE IX GEOMETRY EXERCISES AND WORK BOOK

By A. D. HOTCHKISS, M.A. (Edin.)

Published September 3rd, this book is now being used in every High School and Junior High School in Vancouver. Several of the larger High Schools in the Interior and on Vancouver Island also are using the book.

Such a response speaks volumes for the practical value of the book to teacher and student.

influence' exist or are obtainable in the school; and to demonstrate the manner in which this group mind may be treated to achieve these desirable results. To accomplish this purpose it will be shown how school life is affected by the four underlying principles of the group mind, namely, (1) the development of the idea of the group, with a sentiment regarding its composition, functions, and capabilities, (2) the interaction between groups which promotes self-knowledge and self-sentiment of each group, (3) the development of a body of traditions and customs which bind groups into one co-operative unit, and (4) group organization with leaders in whom the members of the group place explicit confidence. These principles may be directly applied to the four chief branches of school life: classes and class teachers, clubs and club sponsors, assemblies and assembly chairmen, and finally the school and the school principal.

The problem of discipline assumes a different aspect when it is realized that so-called school discipline is really not SCHOOL discipline. It appears prominent in the school only because there are gathered together many hundreds of pupils and because this gathering produces "a concentrated solution of behaviour". To be correctly considered, the word "discipline" should be understood with its widest connotation,—general behaviour, spirit, attitude,—the "morale" of the whole community and not of the school alone.

In discussing this broad aspect of the problem with its concentration in the school, Dr. G. Stanley Hall has said, "Educators must face the fact that the ultimate verdict concerning the utility of the school will be determined . . . by its moral efficiency in saving children from personal vice and crime". This view was supported by the National Education Association when it stated in 1910, "The fundamental consideration in any system of schools is the development of inflexible integrity and strong moral character in those receiving instruction. The Republic cannot survive without a citizenship of high ideals of patriotism, duty, and service".

The problem of discipline is then, not to endeavor to bring children to the point of obedience to school regulations; but rather, to secure principles of moral development which condition the more specific virtues. One, perhaps the best, method of arriving at this higher tone is through the use of Group Psychology in school organization.

Should the editors deem it desirable, and should space permit, the writer will submit for the next issue a second article dealing with the application of Group Psychology to the organization of the "gang" and of the school class.

MEMBERSHIP

THE report on membership for this year, which is still incomplete, shows our Federation in a stronger position than at any other time in its history. The following is a synopsis of membership since 1930:

1930-31	2298.	1932-33	2176.
1931-32	2326.	1933-34	2402.
1934-35	2638 (incomplete).

This growth in the strength of our organization can be attributed directly to the splendid spirit of professionalism which is becoming increasingly evident each year among the teachers of the province.

The Federation has set for its objective in 1935-36 a membership of over 3000. To achieve this it will be necessary to enlist the support of all our members, and we ask that you,—

(1) Take up your membership pledge cards at once.

(2) Bring the achievements and objectives of your Federation to the attention of non-member teachers and solicit their support.

At the Easter Convention, the Annual Meeting of the Federation amended the Constitution regarding membership so that members are now required to re-enrol on or before December 31st. Members are requested to note this change and are urged to co-operate by enrolling early.

EXTRA SESSIONAL DIRECTED READING COURSE

TO many who have been waiting the turn of the financial tide to launch out on a university career comes a piece of welcome news. A new Reading Course to be known as an Extra Sessional Directed Reading Course is to be offered by the University this winter. This is designed mainly for students who find it difficult or impossible to attend the regular sessions of the University. It is open to all over eighteen years of age who are qualified to register as Second Year students and who have completed the courses prerequisite to the Directed Reading Course they intend taking. Examinations are to be held at the University, either in April or at the beginning of the Summer Session.

The course differs considerably from the present reading courses, chiefly in that prerequisites are not so rigid, and that the course is to be under the guidance of a University professor, who will direct readings and assign reports, essays, and the like.

The University has not yet announced the course for this winter but judging from the results of a questionnaire circulated among the Summer Session students it is highly probable that History IIa (The Development and Problems of the British Commonwealth) will be offered.

This is the opportunity many teachers—especially those teaching in the Interior—have been waiting for, and there is little doubt that the popularity of these courses will carry the enrolment well over the required twenty.

Anyone wishing further information should consult the 1935-36 University Calendar. October 1 is the last date of registration.

I am a great friend to public amusements, for they keep people from vice.—Johnson (Boswell's Life).

Antiquity—Old friends are best. King James used to call for his old shoes; they were easiest for his feet.—Selden, Table Talk: Friends.

THE FOREST FIRE

THE sun is burning in the sultry sky,
And pungent fumes scent drowsy air. A cloud
Of smoke like mist clothes valleys in a shroud.
The ruthless, hissing flames leap wide and high.
Great fallen trees amid the turmoil die.
Apart, some blackened trunks stand grimly, cowed,
Charred sticks remain of trees once tall and proud;
Bright streaming meteors pass swiftly by.
The anguished beasts fly blindly ,caring naught;
All other lesser foes are now forgot.
The stately trees are felled by scorching flame,
In seconds robbed of beauty wrought through years;
All green life shrivels now and disappears—
The tyrant dreams earth trembles at his name!
